

Another Train
Pete Morton

The beginning is now and will always be You say you lost your chance, then fate brought you defeat but that means nothing , you look so sad You've been listening to those who say you missed your chance	Lead and oohs
There's another train, there always is Maybe the next one is yours Get up and climb aboard another train	3 part harmony
You feel you're done , there's no such thing although you're standing on your own, your own breath is king The beginning is now don't turn around Regrets of bad mistakes will only drain you	Lead and oohs
There's another train, there always is Maybe the next one is yours Get up and climb aboard another train	3 part harmony
We crawl in the dark sometimes and think too much Then we fill our heads with crazy things that only break our hearts and I know you've seen what the earth can do When it's dragging down another load of worrisome fools	Lead solo. No oohs until "seen" 3part harmony on LAST LINE
There's another train, there always is Maybe the next one is yours Get up and climb aboard another train	3 part harmony
I know it's hard when you feel confused You can crown yourself with fear now you feel you cannot move You're building worlds that don't exist Imagination plays the worst tricks
There's another train, there always is Maybe the next one is yours Get up and climb aboard another train There always is Maybe the next one is yours Get up and climb aboooooard (another train)	3 part harmony twice through
